TWENTY YEARS, A NEW NAME

24.09 – 04.10.2026

Since 20 years, the festival has brought designers, makers, institutions, schools and the public together each autumn around design.

For its twentieth edition, Brussels Design September becomes Brussels Design Week. An evolution rather than a change of name: the project remains the same.

For this edition, the festival worked with the Brussels studio Rond Carré on a new visual identity. The logo is drawn from the designer's grid notebook: a universal grid whose intersections form three square dots, markers that give structure without constraint.

A frame that is both precise and open, close to design at its source, between measure and imagination.

THE HUB

àme

A CENTRAL VENUE FOR THE TWENTIETH EDITION

AME, rue de la Grosse Tour 3, 1000 Brussels.
24.09 – 04.10
ame.brussels

For its anniversary edition, Brussels Design Week has a central venue for the first time: the Hub, hosted by AME, the new home of WOMADE. This 900 m² hybrid space combines coworking, a café, a retail space dedicated to limited editions, a modular event stage and a creative studio. The conference space is furnished by Enky, the festival's furniture partner.

The Hub hosts a solo exhibition by Alain Gilles, the festival press conference on 24 September and three talks (see Talks).

ALAIN GILLES, ALMOST 20...

AME. 24.09 – 04.10

Alain Gilles presents a selection of recent work at the Hub, including several pieces developed with international editors and shown in Belgium for the first time. His work is also on view at MAD Brussels as part of Icons.

REMPART44

24.09 – 31.10. Opening 24.09 at 6pm,
official opening of Brussels Design Week
The Dominican, rue Léopold 9, 1000 Brussels.
thedominican.be / rempart44.be

The Dominican, the first design hotel in Belgium and Main Partner of the festival, again opens its doors to Brussels Design Week. Presented by the gallery Rempart44 and curated by Nicole Brock, The Secular Chapel brings together designers who develop objects, materials and narratives as contemporary vehicles for attention, desire and imagination. Where chapels once held icons and relics, this one gathers new artefacts, offered as invitations to reflection rather than as objects of devotion.

PAPIER BOULETTES / ZÉLIE BOULESTREAU

Galerie Van Eyck, 57 rue Van Eyck, 1050 Ixelles. 24.09 – 04.10, opening 23.09. @papier.boulettes

Zélie Boulestreau presents a series of bas-reliefs in recycled paper, sculptures made to measure for Galerie Van Eyck. Working in a context of depleted resources and fragile ecosystems, she develops composite materials that combine raw earth and natural fibres with paper, and reintroduces earlier frescoes into new ones. From the pulp emerge animal and plant forms that outline a fossilised garden.

Her work starts from horror vacui, the idea that nature abhors a vacuum, reinterpreted here in the light of ecological urgency. Who are these gardeners of the void? They work in what Anna Tsing calls the unruly margins, at the edge of the void, and claim it rather than simply fill it. Pumpkins, papayas and frogs populate this garden as signs of a reclaimed abundance of thought. A book accompanies the exhibition and is presented on this occasion.

PUBLIC CHOISE
AWARD 2026

14TH EDITION

CEREMONY 29.09 at 7pm, Trademart Brussels

Since 2012, the Commerce Design Awards have rewarded Brussels retail spaces built on a genuine collaboration between shopkeepers and designers. The 2026 jury, chaired by the interior architect Nathalie Deboel, brings together professionals from design, interior architecture, cultural institutions and the press: Studio Rond Carré, Jean-François d'Or, Anaïs Sandia Carion, Veerle De Taeye, Bram Van de Velde, Design With Sense and Erik Duterne.

The seven winners of this edition: The Standard (Bernard Dubois), Atomium Shop (KEPER architecten), COSMOS (Maxime De Campenaere), AKKO CAFÉ (Rebecca Rébillé and Marion Zirn), Journal (Studio Zazie Maquet), Flipper's (Charly Buron) and Bleu (Nelly Smets & Iolïe Coufopandellis).

Trademart Brussels, PRO main partner of the festival, hosts three days dedicated to interiors from 27 to 29 September, closing with the awards ceremony.

SHIFTING GROUND

A GARDEN PARTY, SECOND EDITION

Ateliers Usquare, avenue de la Couronne 227, 1050 Ixelles.
18.09 – 27.09. Anniversary party 26.09. @usquare.brussels

For the twentieth edition of the festival, and after a first edition last year, Shifting Ground returns to USquare with A Garden Party, an immersive exhibition built around celebration as a space for encounter, production and collective thought. Belgian and European designers take part. Beyond its festive dimension, the project rests on a paradox: staging a celebration at a time when social, economic and creative expression is becoming more fragile. The garden party, historically associated with privilege, is treated here as a critical device, a way of questioning how we gather and how we choose to celebrate.

Twentieth anniversary party, Saturday 26 September

Brussels Design Week celebrates its twentieth anniversary on the Shifting Ground site. Cake and surprises.

With: Aiko, Alizée Rubino, Anna Tou, Aria Ann, Ariane van Dievoet, Arthur van Buuren, Ascp, Atelier Burrata, Atelier Popi, Ateliers J&J, Béatrice Vancaille, Blackwool, Antoine Guitou, Daphné Kéraudren, Dries Hamels, Emmanuel Hugnot, Erica Michie, Fraustainer, Grammar Furniture, Guillaume Slizewicz, Héroïse Sixou, JB Gambier, Julia Lok, KaPai, La Gadoue, Le Bateau, Lieza Desein, Louis Guay, Manon Viratelle, MWO Design, Olga Flor, Pierre Emmanuel Vandeputte, Pierre Castignola, Raphaëlle Bosmans, Rover, Studio Minimètre.

ICONS

TWENTY YEARS OF DESIGNER OF THE YEAR

MAD Brussels, place du Nouveau Marché aux Grains 10, 1000 Brussels. 01.10 – 12.12. mad.brussels

In 2006, Belgium named its first Designer of the Year. Created by Biennale Interieur with Knack Weekend and Le Vif Weekend, the award went that year to the Brussels designer Alain Berteau. Other partners have joined since, and the title has become a benchmark for Belgian design.

Twenty years later, the list of winners covers ceramics, silverware, product design, furniture and lighting. Among them: Muller Van Severen, Alain Gilles, Nedda El-Asmar, Julien Renault, Linde Freya Tangelder.

For the twentieth anniversary of the award, the twenty winners are brought together in a group exhibition at MAD Brussels, where the twenty-first will be announced this autumn.

DELEGATION OF PRAGUE TO THE EU

Prague House, avenue Palmerston 16, 1000 Brussels. 16.09 – 05.10, opening 30.09 at 7.30pm. @praguehousebrussels

The exhibition brings together students from the product design studio of the Academy of Arts, Architecture and Design in Prague, alongside partner sculptors, following a semester of collaboration with contemporary sculpture studios and the Nosek foundry. The projects treat door hardware as the most intimate point of contact in architecture, the physical gesture that links the outside world and domestic space.

TALKS

EIGHT CONVERSATIONS, EIGHT WAYS OF THINKING DESIGN

Throughout Brussels Design Week, design takes many forms of conversation. Artists, architects, designers, curators, writers and other voices come together to share ideas, question practices and look at design from different angles. From the way we inhabit and shape spaces to the things we see, taste, make and pass on, these encounters explore design as a practice that connects people, disciplines and the world around us. For those who want to go beyond looking and start thinking, listening and exchanging, the Talks programme offers a space to do just that.
